

On a vehicle patrol in the Korengal Valley, Afghanistan, on December 27th, 2007, SPC Jesse Murphree was ambushed in an IED attack. He was part of the 173rd Airborne Combat Brigade stationed out of Vicenza, Italy. The IED attack resulted in the total destruction of the military vehicle he was traveling in, as well as him suffering severe injuries to his legs and other parts of his body. After many surgeries and procedures, both of Jesse's legs were amputated above the knee. Jesse has had a long recovery and every day is a step further.

What better way to help an American Hero feel free, and serve as hope to others who still want to live their life to the fullest? It's Skydiving! The plan is simple: Axis Flight School and Operation Enduring Warrior have offered to help with some of the costs for Jesse. The problem is, due to Jesse's injuries he needs special training only available at Axis, specialized gear, and Axis is located in Arizona, while Jesse is in Florida. We are seeking sponsorship and/or donations for this experience for Jesse to become a licensed skydiver, as well as the culminating celebratory event July 12th and 13th at Skydive Tuskegee, in Tuskegee, Alabama.

We would love to have you as one of our sponsors in support of Jumping with Jesse! Your donation, whatever the amount, is tax deductible to the extent permitted by law.

If your company prefers to donate in-kind gifts for the celebratory event July 12 & 13th, please contact myself, Tyler Nelson, for a list of needs or possibilities.

Any extra proceeds will be donated to the Operation Enduring Warrior Charity in order to help fund the next American Hero that has sustained life altering injuries to become a licensed skydiver. We promise to promote your business and generosity through all marketing and social media.

Your gift today, provides hope to many other Wounded Warriors who want to continue living their life to the full potential. Thank you for donating to this unique event and look forward to seeing you at Skydive Tuskegee to celebrate Jumping With Jesse! Blue Skies!
